At the first sight, we know that this is an easygoing and flavorful wine, this gently bluish red, intense with its cherry red fruits and blackberries aromas bring us to a finish of delicate peppery notes.

With a frank and juicy attack it brings us to a full and supple wine. The tannins are silky and the freshness of the ending characteristic to the terroirs located in altitude.

Food & Wine pairing:

The Le Joly Rouge will be the perfect companion of an assortment of charcuterie, as well as grilled vegetables (eggplant, zucchinis, potatoes, tomatoes) and grilled meat.
